

01 Profile

I find companies their next customers, and I carry the number until the revenue lands.

I make companies money by finding them the customers they cannot find themselves, across finance, SaaS, healthcare and media. The part that matters is subtraction: I can tell you which accounts I took off the list, and why. I do not hand over a list and walk away. I built the CRM my last team ran on, plus the research pipeline, contact verification, follow-up sequencing and reporting behind it, then ran them and owned the target myself. I also write and render the campaign films that go out with the outreach. If something in the funnel breaks, I can go and fix the code.

02 Experience

2026	Lead Generation Specialist
• Present	US media & creative company · Remote - Run the end-to-end outbound engine: account research, contact verification, sequencing and meeting booking. Reference available on request. - Compensated per booked meeting plus commission, paid on the same metric the pipeline is measured on. - Built the infrastructure behind the numbers: automated two-touch follow-up sequences (Gmail API + Google Sheets), a daily draft-and-review workflow, and research pipelines with enforced zero-duplicate lead verification.
Jan 2026	Business Development Executive
Aug 2026	PAN Finance · Remote - Generate and qualify leads for PAN Finance's financial products through structured outreach and prospecting; analyse market trends and competitor activity to spot new growth opportunities. - Built PF Team Ife, the internal Next.js / Supabase lead-generation CRM now used by a 10-person team across ten award and media brands; it has screened 90,000+ companies and processes lead batches of up to 5,000 with an 8-step eligibility check. - Track and report pipeline metrics (leads generated, meetings booked, conversion rates, revenue) and automate the data entry and reporting the team previously did by hand.
Jan 2025	Freelance Automation Developer
• Present	Self-employed · Remote (US and UK clients) - Built and shipped production automation systems independently, full stack: from database design to web UI to CLI to API integration. - Run an automated real-estate market-intelligence pipeline (n8n + Apify + Claude) that has operated daily since March 2025, scoring listings from five sources and delivering a morning briefing email. - Integrated Anthropic, OpenRouter, Google Maps Places, Gmail SMTP, Paystack, n8n, Playwright, and Supabase into client-facing and internal tools; scoped multi-milestone contracts via Upwork with proof-of-work demos.
May 2025	Sales Representative, Lead Generation
Sep 2025	BuildingYourBusiness.Online · Remote - Ran outbound for a digital-marketing SaaS via cold email, LinkedIn, and job-board prospecting; closed recurring subscription clients and hit revenue targets. - Coordinated with international teams over Slack. The volume of manual outreach in this role is what pushed me to start building the automation systems below.

Finds US healthcare organisations that recently changed, from the federal CMS provider registry: newly created entities, and established records that just moved. No API key, standard library only. First run returned 789 organisations across two states, 79 carrying a dated change, and discarded the 125 of 464 Indiana records the registry returns on a mailing rather than a practice address. The README leads with what the data cannot establish, because a changed record never says what changed.
